

BANGKOK

The Bachelor of Accountancy program at Stamford International University will equip students with sound accounting knowledge and requisite analytical, practical and communication skills. The students will study five broad areas of Accounting: Financial Accounting, Management Accounting, Audit, Taxation and Accounting Information System. The faculty members are well qualified and dedicated to teaching.

Industry and Academic Collaborations

The accounting program has collaborations with global accountancy bodies like ACCA, CIMA, government organizations, consulting firms, and accounting firms. The students undertake industry projects with well-known organizations like Bangkok Flight Services (BFS), SAP, etc. These collaborations give students an edge as they provide them with the real-world experience.

Guest Speakers & CSR

Industry experts are invited to deliver seminars on an array of topics related to the field of business, finance and accounting. We also value Corporate Social Responsibility. In 2017, our Accounting students visited Ban Mae Na Jang as part of a charitable CSR event.

Bloomberg Financial Markets Lab

The Bloomberg Financial Markets Lab provides an opportunity for students to know the latest business news, study business case studies, read the financial statements, and undertake financial analysis of listed companies.
