The Stamford International University Student Handbook provides information and guidance which you may need to help you to make the most of the opportunities on offer at Stamford International University. It also gives you formal notification and explanation of the University's codes, regulations, policies and procedures, and relevant contact details and web links where you can find out more.

Enrollment at this University is an agreement to comply with all rules, regulations, and policies and it is your responsibility to become familiar with these expectations. Ignorance of a policy or regulation is not an excuse for failure to observe it. It is essential, and your responsibility, to read the Student Handbook. This handbook sits alongside other relevant guides to your course and programs, with which you should also familiarize yourself.

While these standards pertain primarily to student actions and behavior occurring on the University campus, it should be noted that the University has the same high expectations of students' off campus activity. Off-campus conduct may also be subject to University jurisdiction.

The relationship of Stamford International University with all students enrolled in its classes and programs is non-custodial in nature, and legally no special relationship exists between Stamford International University and its students. The University is not a guarantor of student safety on campus, on trips or excursions, in transportation situations or in any other situations involving physical risks.

The University oversees student matters and ensures that the University’s statutes and policies are followed, with particular interest in examinations, conduct and welfare, and other aspects of the student experience. If you have any concerns or constructive suggestions for improvement, they can be channeled through the Stamford Student Council or through your program advisors.

The Student Handbook does not constitute a contract, between any student and the University. The University reserves the right to make changes to the Student Handbook as deemed necessary. Changes become effective immediately or as determined by the designated academic/administrative committee.

We hope that your time as a student at Stamford International University will be successful and enjoyable.

Non-verbal: The display of sexually explicit stares, gestures or suggestive pictures, including secretly video recording sexual acts or objects.

Physical: Unwanted touching, patting, grabbing, pinching, including sexual assault.

Sexual harassment need not be intentional. The intent of the person who is alleged to have behaved improperly is not relevant to determining whether a violation has occurred. The relevant determination is whether a reasonable person similarly situated could have interpreted the alleged behavior to be sexual harassment. Students who are found to be in violation of this will result in disciplinary / legal action being taken against them.

6.8.3. Privacy

6.8.3.1. Privacy violations such as video or audio taping without permission, voyeurism, or watching others from a place of concealment are prohibited. physical, mental or emotional pain, discomfort, humiliation, embarrassment or ridicule directed toward other students or groups (regardless of their willingness to participate), that is required or expected of new members and which is not related to the mission of the team, group or organization. Hazing includes any activity, whether it is presented as optional or required, that places a new member in a position of servitude as a condition of membership. There are two primary conditions that create a hazing dynamic: (1) New members often wish to be accepted, either formally or informally, into any group, and will submit to hazing in order to be included. Because of this, consent to be hazed does not excuse hazing; (2) Any activity that places new members in a subservient position to experienced members creates an unhealthy and unsafe power dynamic in which control has been yielded to the experienced member. New members in any organization may expect to be trained, oriented or indoctrinated, but membership in any group that puts a new member in a lesser role, unrelated to the original conditions for membership or mission of the group, is inappropriate and unfair to the new members.

6.8.7. Retaliation
Retaliatory action of any kind by any member of the University community against individual(s) who bring complaints and who are cooperating in the investigation of a complaint is prohibited and shall be regarded as a separate and distinct violation.

attempting to forge documents or amending any content of university material to be used as evidence or falsifying unfortunate family incidents for any reason in the benefit of the perpetrator, is illegal and prohibited and will result in disciplinary / legal action being taken against them.

7.8. Adding and Dropping Courses

Undergraduate
Once students have chosen and paid for their courses, they have an opportunity to change their selection of courses. This opportunity is facilitated during the Add-Drop period. The Add-Drop period is a week before the term starts and the first week of the new term. Any course dropped during this period will not appear on the student’s academic record or transcript. It is best to consult with your academic advisor before you do add or drop a course.

If more courses are added than dropped, the student will receive a bill for the extra courses. The payment for this bill needs to be done by the end of Week 1. If you do not pay it, your registration for extra courses will be cancelled, with no chance of registering for the courses again until the following term.

Postgraduate
Week 1-3 Can add course. Week 3-4: This is an enrollment period for the following term. Students are expected to enroll their required subjects on their own respective time slot. (PT: evening, Saturday or Sunday / FT: Monday & Wednesday)

Week 4-6 of Block 2: Any subjects being enrolled after week 4 of block 2, “Late Registration” at THB 300/day will be applied.

However, full time students can enroll and add subjects across the time slot, only if the University opens that subject for both Full Time & Part Time Program, otherwise students must select available subjects in their time slot.
Students are strongly advised to meet their program advisor before adding or dropping a course.

7.9. Withdrawal from courses

Undergraduate
Students may withdraw from a course (or courses) from week 2 through week 8 by logging on to the Registrar’s website: http://reg.stamford.edu/registrar/home.asp and following the instructions there. If they do this, they will receive a W grade, but none of the money they have paid for the course will be refunded. Students who fail to withdraw officially by the end of Week 8 will receive the grade they earn for the course at the end of the term.

Students who receive a W for any course(s) they register for, there will be no effect on the GPA but will be reflected on the transcript.

Students who do not attend any class and fail to withdraw during withdrawal week, will result in a ‘F’ (Fail) grade being awarded to them.

Postgraduate
Week 3-5, students can withdraw from class which will result in a grade of “W” (withdraw) on the transcript and a withdrawn subject will be non-refundable. Week 6-8, student can withdraw from class which will result in a grade of “F” on a transcript.

Students are advised to meet your program advisor before withdrawal from a course/s

7.10. Student Class attendance

Undergraduate
Students are required to attend at least 75% of lectures/classes (i.e. 9 classes for each 12 class sequence or 18 classes for a 24 class sequence) each semester to be eligible to sit for a final examination of a course. For courses in which there is an alternative assessment to a final examination (Eg. A project presentation), students who do not meet the attendance requirement (and have not been able to show cause) will have their final grade reduced by 10% for every absence beyond the 75% attendance requirement

Postgraduate
Postgraduate courses are not subject to this policy although the principles of the policy should be respected and upheld by all post-graduate students. In cases where a postgraduate student has missed more than 50% of lectures without showing due cause and/or evidence of how the required work covered in class will be addressed, the faculty member teaching the class may recommend to the Dean that the student be excluded from assessment in that course. Any such decision will be communicated to the student in advance of the final assessment period for that particular course.

Attendance is mandatory, and recorded in all classes, unless explicitly instructed by your course instructor. Students, with a valid reason for being late or not being able to come to class, should explain that reason to the course instructor, presenting documentation where appropriate. However, both excused and unexcused absences count as absences, unless the student’s absence was requested by the University. Such activities need to be communicated to the course instructor (using the appropriate form) so that you will not be marked as absent.

Punctuality is expected, and all student attendance is recorded on Blackboard, the Learning Management System at Stamford. Every student has access to Blackboard and it is the responsibility of the student to constantly access Blackboard for updates and communications.

Attendance on Blackboard is recorded as:

P  Present (physically present for the duration of the course)
L  Late (during the first 15 minutes of each class. Late 3 times is considered as 1 absent)
E  Excused (absence due to documented requirement by the University)
A  Absent (physically absent; and arrival after the first 15 minutes of the class. Students who leave a class which has already started and are missing from the class for more than 15 minutes will also be considered absent)

7.11. Academic Integrity
Students are expected to be honest and have integrity in all their interactions including academic work.

7.11.1. Truthful Access
Seeking or obtaining University privileges or services to which you are not entitled is prohibited.

7.11.2. Truthful Information
Providing incorrect, untruthful or incomplete information in response to legitimate requests by University officials or academics is prohibited.

7.11.3. Tampering with Information
Destroying, altering, or concealing information of violations of community standards in an attempt to avoid consequences or to assist another to avoid consequences is prohibited.

7.11.4. Academic Dishonesty
Students are expected to be honest in all academic work. A student’s name on any written work including assignments, lab reports, internship reports, papers, creative work, or examinations, shall be regarded as assurance that the work is the result of the student’s own thought and study. Work should be stated in the student’s own words and produced without assistance or properly attributed to its source. When students are authorized to work jointly, group effort must be indicated on the work submitted.

Most academic work builds on the contributions of others. Students have an obligation to know how to quote, paraphrase, summarize, or reference the work of others with integrity. A source need not be given for common knowledge within a discipline. Students should seek guidance from instructors about the preferred citation style for each course. It is the student’s responsibility to become familiar with that style and utilize it in their work for that course. In addition, utilizing campus academic resources including the Center for Academic Excellence and the Library are encouraged and not seen as a violation of academic integrity. Students should take pride in their own work. Any form of academic dishonesty is an offense against the Stamford Community, as well as a demonstration of a lack of personal integrity and academic rigor. Students will be given every opportunity to understand what is needed to avoid academic dishonesty. Cases of academic dishonesty will be referred to the Disciplinary Committee and an appropriate consequence will be administered based on the severity of the case.

7.11.5. Plagiarism

Plagiarism is credit taken for any work belonging to another person who does the work. “Passing off the work of another person as your own is plagiarism”. Plagiarism is wrong and students who resort to plagiarism will be appropriately dealt with. While intent or negligence may affect the seriousness of the sanction, the following examples of academic dishonesty apply regardless:

- Using story material, wording or dialogue taken from published work, motion pictures, radio, television, lectures, websites or similar sources without appropriate quotation marks, citation or footnote reference
- Claiming disproportionate credit for work not done independently
- Submitting work without acknowledging aid received or claiming disproportionate credit for work done jointly
- Unauthorized possession or access to exams
- Unauthorized communication during exams
- Unauthorized use of another’s work or preparing work for another student
- Taking an exam for another student
- Altering or attempting to alter grades
- The use of notes or electronic devices such as calculators, computers, or cell phones to gain an unauthorized advantage during exams
- Fabricating or falsifying facts, data or references
- Facilitating or aiding another’s academic dishonesty
- Submitting the same paper for more than one course without prior approval from the instructors

7.11.6. Cheating on Assessments

Cheating on assessments, be it written or submission, or even assisting others in doing so, is a serious issue. Under no circumstances will any student resorting to cheating in any form be tolerated. The incident will be reported to the Disciplinary Committee. The Disciplinary Committee will decide what action should be taken depending on the severity of the case in question. A confirmed case of cheating on any assessment will result in the student receiving an “F” for that assessment during the term in which the cheating occurred. Sometimes, a project (either group or individual) will take the place during or at the end of the term. Student caught cheating on projects in any forms will be treated in the same way as cheating on an assessment.
7.12. Examinations

Most of the courses have a midterm exam and a final exam. Students must take the midterm and final exams for each course they are registered for. Without taking both mid-term and final tests, a student is most likely not to pass the course, as among the assessments, midterms and final exams carry the most weighting.

Sometimes, a project (either group or individual) may take the place of a midterm or final exam. The project (s) must be completed for the student to receive a passing grade.

7.13. Examination Rules

7.13.1. Students are responsible for checking the correct date, time and classroom for their examinations. Information for final exam can be found on Blackboard weeks before, and the information for midterms can be found in your courses guide as well as by confirmation from your course instructor.

7.13.2. Students are required to arrive at the exam room no less than five (5) minutes before the examination is due to begin.

7.13.3. Before entering the examination room, students must possess a Stamford International University ID card. A student who does not have an ID card, must go to the Registrar’s Office to get a Temporary Card. No additional time will be added to the exam for such cases. The ID cards must be placed on the table while taking the examination.

7.13.4. Students must present themselves at the examination room dressed in business casual attire or their student uniform. A modest and respectful dress code needs to be adhered to. Improperly dressed students will be not allowed to sit in the examination. No additional time will be added to the exam for such cases.

7.13.5. Students are required to leave their bags, documents, books, mobile phone and other belongings at the front of the examination room in full view of proctors. Students are not allowed access to these items during the exam.

7.13.6. Students may bring to their seat only such items as are explicitly permitted by the faculty member who set the test. The proctor may check any books, documents, equipment, pens, pencils, rulers, and erasers that the students have on hand to use within the examination room to ensure that they do not contain material that would give any student unfair advantage. A calculator may be reset by the proctors. Only calculators that are not programmable are allowed. No form of electronic organizer is permitted.

7.13.7. Students should sit according to the seating plan arranged by Academic Support/faculty for the course in an examination room.

7.13.8. After the first 15 minutes, no students will be admitted to the examination.

7.13.9. Students are required to remain in class during the first 45 minutes of the examination.
7.13.10. Students may only leave the room temporarily with the approval and supervision of the proctors. No extra time will be added to the exam in such cases. Proctors may at their discretion accompany students going to the restroom to avoid student from gaining an unfair advantage while outside the examination room.

7.13.11. At the end of the examination, students must hand in all papers, question papers, answer sheets and any rough notes they have made, or reference documents supplied and allowed during the examination and sign their names on these documents.

7.13.12. If any student is caught in any act of academic dishonesty during a final written examination, the paper will be confiscated along with the evidence (physical cheat sheets, electronic devices or picture of devices used for cheating, etc.) used in the act of cheating. Disturbance during final examination that may be interpreted as cheating, but not limited to are:
• Talking to another student
• Looking at another student’s paper
• Using an unauthorized calculator or dictionary
• Having in one’s possessing an electronic communication device which has not been left at the front of the room at the start of the exam.

The Academic Integrity Report will be filled out along with the exam paper and evidence, and will be submitted to the Academic Disciplinary Committee for review.

Should a student be found guilty of cheating, the student will receive an “F” grade for the course in question, will be on a final warning status and will be allowed to register for only 3 courses, of which the failed course will be one of the three allowed.

7.14. Make up Examinations

The right to take a ‘make-up’ examination for the midterm and final assessment can be granted only by the Dean, and only in cases where a serious illness or accident, or a death in the family, has prevented the student from taking the test on the assigned day.

The student should make a request for a make-up exam by using the Make-up Examination Form, which can be obtained from the Student Service Hub. On receiving a request for a make-up test for a midterm or final examination, the Dean has two options:
1. To allow the student to withdraw from the course, even though the period for withdrawal has finished.
2. To deny the request should the reason/excuse not be legitimate.
3. To allow the student to take a make-up test. A make-up examination fee must be paid before the student takes the make-up examination by providing the appropriate receipts.
7.15. Grade Reports
Grade Reports are normally available online two weeks after the final exams. In the case of Internships, grades will be posted within two weeks of the Internship Presentation and, in any case, by the end of Week 1 of the following term. Should there be an amendment, the announcement will be disseminated via Blackboard.

The following grading system is used for all courses:

7.16. Incomplete Grades
A course grade of incomplete (I) is given only to students who are facing serious illness, accident, personal emergency or a Final Major Project where students’ project submission goes beyond the term. When the faculty member agrees to the above conditions, the grade is registered as ‘I’ on the student’s grade report and transcript. The work required to convert the Incomplete into another letter grade must be completed by the end of Week 3 of the following term, or within four weeks of approval of the ‘I’ grade. If the work is not completed, the ‘I’ grade will be converted to an F.

7.17. Failing Grade
A student who receives a grade of (F) in a required/core subject, the student must repeat the subject in order to meet the program requirements. If the subject is a free elective, minor, major elective or General Education subject, students may earn the credits by taking a different subject. As always, students should be guided by their Academic Advisor in making this decision.

7.18. Grade Appeal
Students shall, without prejudice, be given access to their examination papers and student records upon request to the Registrar.
The first week of a new term is designated as an appeal period and grade re-check period for grades from the previous term. After the deadline, there will be no grade re-check and appeals.

7.18.1. Should a student wish to re-check an assigned grade, the student needs to fill out the Grade Recheck Form which would form the basis of a formal discussion between the student and the instructor.

7.18.2. Should the discussion between the student and instructor be resolved, the Grade Recheck Form would serve as a basis to formally have the grade changed.

7.18.3. A Grade Appeal to the committee will be facilitated only if the student’s concern remains unresolved after the discussion with the course instructor regarding the assigned grade.

7.18.4. Grade appeals to the committee must be made in writing using the appropriate Grade Appeal form. The form must contain substantial reason for wanting to appeal a grade.

If students have any questions regarding their final grades, they can request to have their grades checked and appealed only during the Grade Appeal Period. Anything beyond the appeal period will not be entertained.

Academic Appeals Committee (AAC)

The AAC is the committee comprised of faculty and staff that will assess every application for all academic matter, including but not limited to, re-entry, renewal, cheating, plagiarism, etc., and will ascertain whether each application has enough evidence to be approved, and applications without credibility, rejected.

University Appeals Committee (UAC)

The UAC, headed by the President of STIU, is a committee to which a student can appeal should the student consider the outcome of the AAC unfair. The decision of the UAC will be final after consultation and endorsement of the University’s President, or nominee.

7.19. Academic renewal

Application for Academic Renewal may be described as a student wanting to re-start the academic program from the beginning, due to a decline in academic results which had adversely affected the student’s GPA. Student applying for Renewal must:

- Be a former/existing student of Stamford International University
- Must have completed at least two academic terms
- Must not have been suspended for academic or serious disciplinary misconduct
- Must have cleared their previous debt/outstanding fees
If the application is successful, the student can be re-admitted to the University with a new student ID number. All courses with a grade of C or above will be retained. All other results will be removed from the student’s transcript and the student will have to take the courses again and register in the latest version of the program.

7.20. Academic Re-Entry
Application for Academic Re-Entry may be described as a student wanting to continue their education from where they discontinued or stopped during their program due to circumstances.

If the application is successful, the student will be able to continue the program from when it was discontinued. The student will continue the same ID number and enroll normally. All courses taken in the previous term will stand as they are with their relevant grades. The student may also choose to apply for the new version of the program by choice.

7.21. Upgrade your GPA
Students may upgrade their GPA by repeating subjects in which they received a D or D+ or taking new subjects if the subject taken was a General Education, major elective or free elective course. However, an upgrade is only permitted with the consent of the Faculty Dean before the course begins.

7.22. Grade Point Average
The GPA is determined by multiplying the number grade points for each Stamford subject by the number of credits for that subject and dividing by the total number of credits. GPA is calculated on both per term and a cumulative basis.

- Courses for which the student has already registered for that term may be de-registered and will not appear on the student’s transcript. This decision is done in consultation with the program advisor.

7.28. Transfer of Credits
Stamford International University accepts transfer students, provided they are in good standing with their previous institution and that the student meets Stamford admissions requirements.

Transfer students are required to have an official transcript from each college or university previously attended sent to Stamford’s Admissions Office. The criteria for credit transfer are as follows:
7.28.1. Credits can be transferred only once, at the time of admission, or latest by the end of the first term, and no later. Should a credit transfer request reach the academic office beyond the first terms, the transfer document will not be entertained.

7.28.2. The institution in which the student had originally studied/completed is accredited, locally or internationally.

7.28.3. Undergraduate: The maximum number of credits for undergraduate that can be transferred will not exceed 60%.

7.28.4. Postgraduate: The maximum number of credits for postgraduate that can be transferred is 16. For postgraduate, each credit transferred must have had 15 classroom hours or equivalent, which is 45 hours for one course.

7.28.5. The courses for which credit is awarded must usually have been taken within 5 years of application to Stamford.

7.28.6. Course Credit Transfer: When a Credit Transfer Form is completed, it is a requirement that supporting evidence be provided, i.e. Course Syllabi, Learning Outcomes or at least, a substantial Course Description to understand what the student has studied. If the evidence provided matches 75% of our courses, it will then be transferred.

7.28.7. Internship Credit Transfer: As per the curriculum, an Internship is done at the end of a program where all the course requirements have been met. Generally, an internship is not transferrable. Allowance may be given only in very certain cases which need to be discussed, assessed and approved by Program Heads only.

7.28.8. The rule of thumb for a Credit Transfer process is that the “student” actually fills out the form and supplies required documents to facilitate the transfer.

7.28.9. Credits will not be transferred unless the Credit Transfer Form is signed off first by the Registrar’s office, then the Program Head, followed by the Department Head/Dean and finally by the Director UG/PG.

7.28.10. The Registrar’s Office first needs to approve the validity and credibility of the institution before further consideration takes place.

7.28.11. A form filled out should not be interpreted as approved

7.28.12. The grade earned for an undergraduate course transfer must be C or higher only. The grade earned for a postgraduate course transfer must be B or higher only. There will be no exception to the rule.

Credit Transfers may be categorized by the following:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>CS</th>
<th>Credits from Standardized Test</th>
<th>Credits obtained from Standardized Test.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>CE</td>
<td>Credits from Examination</td>
<td>Credits obtained from Examination that is not Standardized test.</td>

<td>Credits from Training</td>
<td>Credits obtained from evaluating the study/training from other institutions.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CP</td>
<td>Credits from Portfolio</td>
<td>Credits obtained from Portfolio.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
7.28.13. All UG transfer students must spend at least five (5) terms at Stamford in order to graduate.
7.28.14. A Credit Transfer fee is applicable during the application process. (Please refer to yearly fees and charges)

7.29. Second Bachelor’s Degree
To qualify to study for a second Bachelor’s degree at Stamford International University, students must have earned their first Bachelor’s degree from an accredited college or university, either locally or internationally.
The second Bachelor’s degree must be in a different area of study to the first one. Students may be exempted from the General Education requirement. The requirements for other courses will be assessed using the same standard and criteria that are used for credit transfer.

7.30. Double Major
Students interested in taking a Double Major should submit a request to their Dean of the Faculty. In order to qualify to receive a double major, students must complete all degree requirements for both majors.
