

List 1: Information about Higher Education Institutions

List 1: No.1 (1.2) Establishment

Guideline and Responsible Person(s)

Required period of data/information	e.g. academic year 2023
Explanation and guidelines for data/information disclosure	Displays detailed information about laws related to the establishment of higher education institutions. In the case of private higher education institutions, the establishment license and legal requirements must be disclosed. A PDF file is also attached for download.
Responsible person(s)	GGR

Data Disclosure

Below is the data that will be disclosed on the Stamford website.

1.2 Establishment

(1) Law establishing higher education institutions

Stamford International University was first registered as Stamford International College, established in accordance with the Private Higher Education Act B.E.2522 and second edition B.E.2535. In later years, the college changed its status to become a university under the name Shiller-Stamford International University and the registration was in accordance with the same Act. The University changed its name to become Stamford International University in 2024, the change followed the Private Higher Education Act B.E.2546.

(2) License to establish a private institution of higher education and requirements of the private institution of higher education in accordance with the law on private higher education institutions

A license is attached.